Tales OF TWO CITIES

TIRELESS WORKER

Dick Derby, Upland building inspector, has returned home after being in the hospital with a heart attack. He is pretty weak and needs a lot of mending before he can return to work. For that reason, it is requested that no visitations be made.

We don't pretend to be qualified to give any medical opinion on the matter. However, we do know that Dick is one of the hardest workers at his job that we have ever known. He provides lot of "extra" services for Upland citizens that very few other building offices do and is constantly studying and keeping up with the latest methods in building and building inspection.

People who have or are building in Upland know, we're sure, how conscientious and capable Dick is on his job. We want to wish him a speedy recovery and hope that, by taking things a little bit easier in the future, he will be able to get back on his feet very soon.

AUTHOR! AUTHOR!

Phyllis Curteman, Upland Junior High school student, is apparently the "cover author" of the school paper, "The Bijou." Her latest on "The Life of a Baby Sitter" is quite entertaining and if we can find space one of these fine days we might even reprint it, providing Phyllis will give us her copyrighted permission.

FLOOD HELP

Somebody asked us yesterday, "Where can I leave my donation for the Oregon flood?"

So, for others who may not know we want to repeat again that the Upland Red Cross is accepting money for Pacific Northwest flood victims at its office next to the city hall. However, cash or checks may also be left at any of the two Upland banks. Every bit will help - even a dollar. So, don't be backward. Give what you can afford, but give something.

FOURTH DONATIONS

While we're on the subject of donations, we want to announce that the Daily News-Herald is now prepared to accept your buck donation to the Fourth of July fireworks fund. Just drop in anytime. We're sure nobody will turn you down. And we'll even give you something as a souvenir to take home with you. What is it? A big, dark secret. You'll have to pay to find out.

RUMOR

Rumor has it that if the Upland Rotary club ball team ever wins a game the club is going to throw the biggest "party" you ever saw for the "boys." Sorry, we have to use quotation marks around "boys" but we're sure the dear, old Lions will understand. Notice we didn't put any quotes around old. That, we know the Rotarians will appreciate.

BRIEF NOTES

.....There'll be a lot of happy boys and girls by this week's end....yes, school is going to be out.....Its the first time we've seen some of the kids smile .....Bud Camfield, Upland Junior High school principal, will have some boys available for summer work. So, if you need some help, give him a buzz at the school ....He assures us he'll be there during the summer..... Bob Sachs still won't commit himself as to what school he'll be playing football for come next fall ..... Vacation time is here, all right. We even know of some people who've left already....nothing like getting an early start...but then think of having nothing to look forward to all summer long .....

Peacetime Draft Passed By Senate

Men 19-25 To Be Eligible For Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—A peacetime draft of men aged 19 through 25 for the armed services was voted today by the senate.

The action came after a week of heated debate and sends the measure on to the house.

G.O.P. leaders have put the bill down as "must" for house action before congress adjourns—tentatively set for June 19. Some influential members of the house rules committee, however, are cool to the whole idea of a draft. Their opposition may delay house action.

Military leaders estimate that if it becomes law two out of every three single non-veterans in the 19-26 age group will be drafted.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Worn down by talk, Senators pledged a final vote today on their peacetime draft bill.

They agreed to begin balloting on remaining amendments at 2 p. m. (Est) with the likelihood of the showdown rollcall an hour later.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders forecast that the military manpower bill would be approved. Then it moves over to the House for another battle.

That one won't be as drawn out ....if it comes. But it still remains to be seen whether the powerful rules committee will let the bill reach the House floor.

The Senate's agreement to vote ....coupled with a limit on debate.... came after three consecutive day-and-night sessions. Clocks in the chamber had passed the midnight hour after 13½ hours of angry debate.

Air Force Plane Flies Faster Than Speed of Sound

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Secretary Symington said today the Air Force research plane XS-1 several times has flown "much faster than the speed of sound."

Symington told a news conference that so far as he knows no other plane has achieved supersonic speed, that is, faster than sound travels.

The first and only pilot to fly the XS-1 beyond the so-called sonic wall is Capt. Charles E. Yeager, 25, a fighter pilot who destroyed 13 German planes while serving with the Air Force.

President Hits Power Lobby in Seattle Speech

SEATTLE (AP)—President Truman today pledged his administration to fight against "private power lobbyists" to develop western river basins and provide cheap power.

He accused congress of blocking funds for transmission lines to distribute low-cost power from California's Shasta dam "at the expense of the public" and to the benefit of a private company.

He did not name the company. The Pacific Gas and Electric company owns the transmission lines from Shasta dam.

He said the company "has so little faith in the future of the west that it failed this spring to be ready to furnish vitally needed power" and Northern California "had to resort" to a brownout.

Mr. Truman received the news at Olympia "with the deepest regret." He termed Schwellenbach "a warm personal friend....a greater senator, a great judge and a great secretary of labor.

The White House said Schwallenbach died at 3:40 a.m. (Est) at Walter Reed hospital where he had been a patient since May 28.

Mrs. Schwellenbach was at his bedside.

The White House statement attributed death to "cardiac failure which complicated his recent illness." Funeral plans are incomplete.

There was no immediate indication who Mr. Truman might

Federal Judge Continues Ban On Rail Strike

WASHINGTON, JUNE 10 (AP) —Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough today continued his ban against a strike by three railroad unions.

After a hearing in federal court Goldsborough granted the government a temporary injunction. It replaced a restraining order which blocked a strike after government seizure of the railroads.

At the same time, Goldsborough gave the unions five days to file a written answer to the Justice department's pleading for a permanent injunction. He said he would set another hearing in the case after the answer is filed.

This action leaves the railroad case still uncertain pending the final hearing.

But Goldsborough's action today continues the legal bar against a coast-to-coast railroad strike which otherwise would have expired tomorrow night.

He did not specify the votes, however, and emphasized at a news conference that he had not campaigned for the nomination outside of his home state.

Delegates to the G. O. P. national convention at Philadelphia are being urged to support him in letters sent out by California Republican leaders, Warren said.

Describing this as normal procedure, he said California's delegates are receiving similar letters from other presidential hopefuls.

Like Outing? Go To Camp Conifer Then

In recognition of the 20th anniversary of the Girl Scout summer camp at Camp Conifer, members of the Chaffey community are being given an opportunity to "dig in" and participate in the annual cleanup day at the camp.

Everybody is invited to bring the family, a picnic lunch, and, incidentally, of course, a rake or a shovel. An hour or two of light work to put the camp in shape is all that will be expected. But the committee adds, "come whether you can assist or not and enjoy a day's outing in a very delightful spot."

In the letter sent to various organizations, the Chaffey Community Girl's organization states that, "During the past 20 years Camp Conifer has been brought up to its present well-established state entirely by voluntary labor and each year, after the winter snows, it is necessary to clean up and repair the grounds and buildings. So they are asking the mothers and fathers, old friends and the new, to come to the camp Sunday, June 13th, bring a picnic lunch, a rake or a shovel."

So, if you don't mind a little work and want to take the family on a little outing, Camp Conifer is the place for you this Sunday. It is located just off the main highway to Big Bear, between Running Springs and Arrow Bear.

'Fur' Starts Flying in Washington Over Truman Remark, 'Worst Congress'; Stassen Speaks Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Stassen said today President Truman made an "unjustified, unstatesmanlike" statement when he termed this congress the "worst" in history.

The Republican presidential aspirant gave the senate appropriations committee his opinion of the President's lashing of congress on a cross-country speaking trip. Stassen was before the committee to oppose house cuts in the European recovery program funds.

Stassen had just said he thinks congress has made "one of the most constructive two-year records in foreign policy of any congress in the history of our nation".

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) asked: "Then you don't agree with the President's statement that this is the worst congress in the history of the congress?"

Stassen said:

"I view that as an ill-considered, ad-libbed remark that will have an unfortunate effect on the action which the President and congress should together take in the interests of the country. It was an unjustified and unstatesmanlike statement."

Even before this crept into the ERP hearings, it was clear the President's remarks had pulled off the political gloves all the way around. Republicans were firing back such retorts as "poorest president".

That crack came from House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana, talking with reporters.

On the house floor, Rep. Clevenger (R-Ohio) said congress "has not done badly," then

'CULT RANCH'

Accuse Man of Subjecting Young Women To 'Hypnotic Influences'

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—A state assembly investigating committee called for testimony today from Henry C. Newson after hearing allegations that he operated a "cult ranch" at which he subjected young women to "hypnotic influences."

The interim committee, which also subpoenaed five women witnesses, opened an investigation of conditions at the 20-acre ranch in East Whittier yesterday as part of its current checkup on boarding homes and similar places.

Mrs. Ruth Rhodes of Rosemead, testified that her daughter had been a follower of Newson, 38, for some time. She said that during that time her daughter "lost all power to think for herself" and was under a hypnotic influence of Newson.

Mrs. Rhodes testified that from 12 to 15 children are at the ranch and that their mothers, some of whom are estranged from their husbands, also reside there.

Newson denied allegations of hypnotism and stated "I believe only in the power of reason. All worthwhile spiritual guidance is the result of reason only."

He said that complaints to the committee were brought by a woman who "became a disturbing influence in the harmony of our communal living."

Flood Waters Rising Again

PORTLAND, ORE (AP)—Flash floods and high tides heaped new threats on the water-weary Pacific northwest today. The swollen Columbia and Fraser rivers built their three-week flood siege toward new heights.

Three cloudbursts and a five-hour downpour sent tons of water hurtling into the raging Columbia and more farmland was added to some 650 square miles already under water. The weather forecast: showers and thunderstorms.

High tides rolled in from the Pacific, threatening anew more than 11,000 harassed defenders of almost swamped dikes guarding Oregon-Washington and British Columbia lowlands where the Columbia and Canada's Fraser rivers meet the sea. Leakage along the levees increased steadily.

The death toll for 22 days of flood was 32....upped two by the drowning yesterday of a 10-year-old boy and a railroad division engineer.

The Red Cross in Portland said 335 still were unaccounted for in the Memorial day flooding of Vanport.

2,201 PLANES TO BE BOUGHT

cating engines. But the bomber program also will include 81 jet bombers, of which 30 will be the high-speed "flying wing" jet version.

In addition to the combat craft, 553 transport and similar planes will be purchased.

The actual cost of the planes was not given.

The buying program was announced by Air Secretary Symington at a news conference.

Symington said it would be a year before delivery of the planes begin. Most of them, he added, won't be ready until after mid-year 1950.

Some of the planes will be used as replacement for existing craft. Others will go toward building up the 70-group force approved by Congress.

Aside from the air force program, Secretary of Defense Forrestal has assigned $653,635,000 for buying navy aircraft.

Symington was asked why the giant, six-engine B-36 Consolidated Vultee aircraft was not included in the new program. He replied that money for the plane had been appropriated previously. When pressed as to whether the air force intended to go through with the existing order for 100 B-36's, Symington said:

"I don't know as we will go through with 100. I think the number is 94 now and that might be cut some more. But we are going through with the B-36's, how many I don't know."

Parkside Group Is Featured

Young residents of Parkside and other parts of the community are featured in today's pictorial presentation under the heading of "Know Your Neighbor". Today's group of 16 youngsters is the largest presented at any one time.

The chubby, cute girl on the left, top panel, is Nadene Hanna, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hanna, 201 Parkside. She is five months of age. Mr. Hanna is employed at Kaiser Co.

The Southern California Edison Co. is represented by Connie Jean Allan, daughter of Dalton Allan, 438 Parkside, who is employed by the utility. Connie is five months of age. The family has resided here eight months.

GOOD HANDS

The Ontario Sea Scouts ought to be in good hands when they take their first trip aboard a navy destroyer this weekend. Their skipper, Roy Case, is an ex-navy chief of 12 years and he spent nine of those years aboard a destroyer.

You know in the navy it's the real seamen who request and get destroyer duty. So, the Sea Scout Ship, Copper Fin, couldn't be in better hands than that of Roy Case.

The smart looking gal in the third panel from the top is Alta Rose, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Wilbright, 642 Highland court. She is in the second grade at Edison school. Mr. Wilbright is employed by Citrus Motors, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Robertson, 522 North Third avenue, have two sons in the pictures, Stephen, who is five years, and David, four years. The family has resided here six months. Mr. Robertson is employed by Frank Crumm, contractor.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Unruh, 373 East Eleventh street, Upland, are represented by a son, Lonnie, four years of age.

The largest representation is in the Arthur Storms family, 575 North Campus avenue. Presented are three sons, Kenneth, six years; Neil, nine years, and David, three years. Mr. Storms is employed by Kaiser Co. Neil is a member of the Cub Scouts.

Many people know "Tommy" and Roberta Powell and many people will be interested in their little son, Michael Anthony, six months of age. They reside at 324A North First avenue. The father is a student at Pomona college.

Cease Fire Orders Out

CAIRO (AP) — Cease fire orders are going out today to Arab and Jewish troops in the field. They are being told to stop shooting tomorrow morning for four weeks, during which efforts will be made to settle the month-old Palestine war peaceably.

Premier Tewfik Abu Alhuda announced in Amman, Trans-Jordan, last night that Trans-Jordan forces in Palestine already have been ordered to cease fire at the appointed deadline....1 a.m. (Est) Friday. This would include the Arab Legion, one of the Arab's main striking forces.

In Tel Aviv, Israel's foreign minister Moshe Shertok, said in announcing his government's acceptance of the United Nations-engineered truce, that Israel was ready to issue a cease fire to Jewish troops.

Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator, who announced the cease fire, told both the Arabs and Jews last night he hoped they would notify every commander on the Palestine battlefield of the date and hour of the cease fire in order to avoid misunderstandings.

Bernadotte said he would call a peace conference as soon as possible on the neutral Mediterranean island of Rhodes.

"We have achieved only the first step," Bernadotte told newsmen. "I assure you we are going to work with the same energy for the big result we hope to get....peace in Palestine."

HANGAR FIRE

ST. JOSEPH, MO. (AP)—A large hangar, 21 airplanes and a mess hall used by the national guard were destroyed by fire early today at nearby Rosecrans field.

Hugh Middaugh, airport manager, estimated the loss tentatively at $875,000 pending a more complete check.

Energy given off by the sun is estimated to be the equivalent of 5,000,000,000,000 atomic bombs per second.

Lobbyists Hit In President's Talk at Seattle

"There is no reason why the public should be forced to suffer in this manner. Utility companies must not be allowed to block publicly-owned transmission lines which will bring power to the people at low cost."

Congress, he said, "threw us backward" by cutting river development appropriations last year and "year after year" has blocked funds for public lines to Shasta dam.

The President called upon the Pacific Northwest to arm for "the toughest kind of a fight" for river basin development to stop floods and provide cheap power.

The shock of the tragedy of the disastrous Columbia river flood, the Presdent said, "should reinforce our determination to build the dams and other structures needed" to control the nation's river basins.

Mr. Truman's speech was prepared for delivery under auspices of the Washington State Press club at the Memorial stadium after motoring here from Olympia with Governor Mon C. Walgren.

He viewed stretches of the swollen Columbia from Grand Coulee dam yesterday and from his train in eastern Washington. He will fly over the devastated area around Portland tomorrow and attend a flood conference at Portland, where he also will speak for the Red Cross.

DEATH TAKES SCHWELLENBACH

pick for the cabinet post.

David A. Morse is undersecretary and has been serving as acting secretary during Schwellenbach's illness.

Schwellenbach took over the labor department three years ago after Frances Perkins, one of the original members of President Roosevelt's cabinet, stepped out.

Schwellenbach's death came in the midst of wide-spread labor troubles. But, of late, he had little to do in settling labor-management disputes. Congress had whittled away the department's powers and shifted them to other agencies.

His illness began with a fall during one of the many labor-management crises which greeted his first year in office.

'Fur' Starts Flying After Truman Talk

"High Tax Harry, like a nasty little Gamin, has dipped his hands into the mud and dirt and plastered it all over our new buggy and danced out of reach of the whip. Might well be there will be some congress-tanned Missouri jackass hide on the Christmas market—come November."

House Democratic Leader Rayburn jumped up at that. He told Clevenger the use of such language toward "any president" was an "amazing performance".

The name calling started at Spokane where Mr. Truman, openly bidding for votes on his western tour, lashed out anew at the GOP-controlled congress.

He told a civic celebration that the people deserve more of the present congress if they fail to note in November.

Then, in an exchange with a Spokane reporter from the rear platform of his special train, the President caustically referred to the Chicago Tribune and the Spokane Spokesman-Review as "the worst in the United States".

Those papers, he added, "got just what you ought to have—you've got the worst congress in the United States you've ever had."

Optimists See Films On Electricity

Two films dealing with the phenomena of electricity were shown Ontario Optimists yesterday at their weekly meeting at the Hotel Orange.

Both were shown by Doug Jones, General Electric company representative. One was entitled "Principles of Electricity" and the other, "Thunderbolt Hunters".

Carl Yost was program chairman of the day. President Paul Cushing presided.

Miss Eileen Boyer, 39, above, is under indictment at Malone, N. Y., on grand larceny and forgery charges in the alleged misappropriation of $114,300 from the People's Trust Company at Malone. She was former head teller at the bank and an employe for 20 years.—AP Wirephoto.

Youth To Pay For Damages

Agreeing to reimburse the management of the Ontario Pirates baseball team $5 each, eight youths who have admitted participation in four burglaries of the John Galvin park concession stand, Ontario, will not be prosecuted.

The youths, four of them Fontanans, two from Ontario and one each of Upland and Pomona, have denied guilt in the recent burglary of the Upland Memorial park concession stand, local police said.

Sgt. Melvin Trammell of the Upland police department was instrumental in solving the crimes, which involved a loss of merchandise - mainly candy, ice cream bars and the like - of $46.10.

BOB RUARK — Oh, Where Has 'Love' Flown Now That Money Is With Us?

New York — I try to keep a close eye on the ladies, chiefly for their own good, and I am about to give up on them. As June bows in, it's hard to feel very orange-blossomy. The girls have certainly been acting unmaidenly of late, honest to Betsy.

I admire the honesty of the divorced lass in Rockeville Centre, Long Island, who calmly inserted a "wife for sale" ad in the local paper, offering herself as a bride to any guy who could show up at the altar with 10 grand and a thin gold band in his fist. Mrs. Dorothy Lawler just said candidly that she was tired of trying to make ends meet, what with two kids and all, and she was shopping for a guy with cash in the kick. If she was young and pretty, fine. But the lady made it bitterly plain that she was primarily interested in dough.

You have to go for the candor, but it's a powerful kick in the pants for young love, and for words rhyming with croon and spoon. Many a filly has closed her eyes and dreamed of Tyrone Power, while mentally computing the mink jackets she could purchase as Mrs. Wilbur Q. Hogjowl, but it's a rare lass who'll come right out and admit that love is for the birds, and what she really adores is money.

We have been reared on a steady diet of dogma, to wit, that a bird in a gilded cage is a sicker pigeon than a happily mated squab who doesn't know where her next mouthful of birdseed is coming from. There was something to the effect that when the butcher-bill flies in the window, true love flies out the door, but we always downplayed it in the mating season.

I do not wish, really, to see the whole course of man-with-maid computed on a spot-cash basis. When you murmur, in the shell-pink ear of your beloved, "my what a cutums ootsums little peachcake oo is," it would be tremendously disconcerting to have her snap back: "all very well, bud, but what's your bank balance?" That is a question for prospective father-in-laws, who are invariably typecast as villians.

There has always been a beautiful fiction, since Romeo beamed his first calf-eye at the balcony girl, that love conquered all, and even though oft proven false, it has been a happy portion of our house rules. The predication of matrimony purely on a Dun and Bradsrteet rating would render jobless a lot of poets and songwriters and add to the burden of the Wall St. chroniclers.

I do not care to read, in the financial columns: "Dear Mr. Hendershot: yesterday, my boy friend's amalgamated mucilage dropped two points in the market. Do you think he has really ceased to care, or his preoccupation with grain futures come between us?"

This has been, by evidence, probably the leapingest year since they voted to stitch that extra day on February. Fired by the shooting license that is granted them every four seasons, the girls have run practically amok.

In Pueblo, Colo., the lady mashers have become so thick on the sidewalks that police have issued a warning to young men, pleading with them not to walk alone at night. The leap year spirit has even penetrated the Iron Curtain.... a descriptive term for Russia I just invented. One of the wide-beamed Russky lasses up and kidnaped an American sergeant, and they haven't been heard from since.

If only out of deference to the silver service advertisements, I plead for a maintenance of the romance angle of matrimony, and request that the women revert slightly to the downcast eye and the all-but-forgotten blush. It is well to give thought to the economic assets of your cavalier, but kindly refrain from demanding a pre marital audit of his trouser pockets. There is time enough for that, later .... and as an old sentimentalist, I should hate to see cupid openly replaced by mammon as the agent who stirs the maiden's fancy when the leaves begin to bud.

Today's Birthday

(If you have a birthday this week or this month, call it in to 311-06 and we'll include you in this column.)

Prince Philip (Mountbatten), Duke of Edinburgh, born June 10, 1921, is twice a prince. He renounced a Greek title and got one in England when he married Elizabeth, heir presumptive to the throne. He is a great-grandson of Queen Victoria and third cousin to his wife. He spent much time with his uncle Louis, Viscount Mountbatten. He and his wife were childhood playmates. Noted for his good looks, he is an athlete and a naval officer.

AUTHOR Of the Week

John Mayo Cass, whose first novel is "This Magnificent World", is a Yale graduate, a World War I veteran, an ex-advertising copy writer and an ex-bookstore clerk. He did not start to write fiction until he was over 50, when his first published story broke into two anthologies after its appearance in the Atlantic Monthly. Like the hero of his novel, he has been on walking trips in France, lived on a farm in Illinois, and is married to a French girl. In this photo he looks pretty solemn; that suits the general tenor of his novel, but belies the gaiety of some of its best chapters.

All In A Lifetime — Things To Worry About

JAMES MARLOW — Greeks Were 2,355 Years Ahead Of Us in Hiring 'Mercenaries'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Greeks were about 2,355 years ahead of us.

Back in 407 B. C., when things were getting tough, the city state of Athens let the slaves enlist in the army with the promise of making them citizens.

The U. S. senate, working on a draft law, has voted to let 25,000 anti-communist aliens enlist in the U. S. armed forces with the promise of making them American citizens after five years' service.

History is full of the story of nations hiring aliens to fight for them. Here in the Civil War men could escape the draft by hiring substitutes.

Senator Lodge, Massachusetts Republican, offered the alien volunteers idea to the senate, which accepted it, but not without some protest.

Lodge said that every alien—such as anti-communist Poles and Czechs in Europe—who enlisted, would mean one less American to be drafted.

A soldier hired to fight for a country which is not his own country is called a "mercenary". Lodge said the 25,000 aliens he has in mind should not be called mercenaries.

But Senator Holland, Florida Democrat, said this country just the same would be accused of doing that, hiring mercenaries.

And Senator Gurney, South Dakota Republican, fighting Lodge's idea, said:

"Many people feel that such a move would subject our nation to the criticism that our own people are not willing to bear arms in the defense of the nation."

During the Civil War in this country, men facing the draft for the Union army could hire substitutes by paying them $300. In the south, too, would-be draftees in the Confederate army could hire substitutes.

In their "Growth of the American Republic", the historians Morison and Commager have a note on what happened in the north in Civil War days:

"As recruits were credited to the district where they enlisted, and not to that of their residence, several wealthy communities escaped the draft altogether by purchasing cannon-fodder in the poorer country districts."

In short, the rich could hire the poor to do their fighting.

Hired alien soldiers have a long history.

In 401 B. C., for instance, Cyrus, the Persian, hired Xenophon and 10,000 Greeks to fight for him in Persia. When Cyrus was bumped off, the Greeks had a terrible time getting back home.

The Romans, while they depended on the citizens of Rome and the empire to do the empire's fighting, were good for centuries.

As the Roman empire started to decay, barbarian mercenaries were hired to do the fighting. That empire went out the window.

Machiavelli, who wrote quite a book on how to win wars and influence people with troops, had a holy horror of mercenaries.

He wrote a whole chapter on them, in which he said:

"The mercenaries and auxiliaries are useless and dangerous, and if anyone supports his state by the arms of mercenaries, he will never stand firm or sure, as they are disunited, ambitious, without discipline . . . and keep no faith with men."

There were so many mercenaries fighting in Italy in the Machiavellian period—say, from the middle of the 13th to the middle of the 15th centuries—that they never knew from one day to the next who their new boss would be.

So when they met in battle, knowing they all might be on the same side the next day, they showed each other so much professional courtesy that sometimes mercenary armies fought for a day at a time with hardly the loss of a single man.

In this country, the British brought over 30,000 German mercenaries—the Hessians—to fight us in the revolutionary war.

Only about 17,000 of them got back home. The rest were killed or settled down here and raised families.

DEWITT MACKENZIE — This Year May Well Decide Future of Entire World

President Truman says the present year "may well determine the world's future".

The chief executive expressed this striking view in a message of greeting to the AFL Upholsterers' International convention in Washington. He didn't say what impelled him to such belief but left it to us to figure out for ourselves. That constitutes something of a challenge, so let's see what decisive events are on the fire in this year which already is one-third spent.

Naturally our first thought is that the remaining eight months may well bring us to the crisis in the cold-war between Russia and the democracies. That is, the cold war either will have developed into a shooting war or we shall have substantiation for our belief that another global conflict isn't inevitable. Certainly the world's fate hangs in the balance.

That's the Number 1 issue, but interlocked with it are many other momentous matters. For instance, can Russia be held along the line which she has established across Central Europe or will she be able to surge westward? Any further great movement toward the English channel might easily be fatal to world peace.

We shall learn whether the new alignment of the nations in western Europe in conjunction with the Marshall plan is the real thing or just a flash in the plan. In short, we shall know whether the democracies have the courage of their convictions.

Can Italy and France — both strategic states in the democratic bloc—overcome the double handicap of fierce economic depression and the assault of powerful communist parties which take their orders from Moscow? Can England pull herself out of her economic tail-spin and re-establish the military strength essential to this sentinel of western democracy? Present indications are that the answer to both these questions is in the affirmative.

We shall have a far better idea of whether Russia can hold down those countries like Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary, which she has subjugated. We also shall see what progress the Soviet Union makes in post-war reconstruction, upon which would depend her ability to engage in another major conflict.

And while we are on this subject of reconstruction let's not overlook that upon American strength hinges the fate of democracy. Any display of weakness, due to internal dissension, might be an invitation to disaster. It might produce the world conflict which we are trying to avert.

Apropos of this, we shall discover in the balance of this year whether the still free nations have learned the hard lesson that communism is the greatest threat democracy ever has faced. And we shall find out whether England and America and the other democracies mean business when they declare war on red organizations within their own borders.

Then, of course, the generation-old issue of the Jewish national home may be settled— in one way or another. The prayer is that it may not have to be decided by a Jihad, or Holy War—the most terrible of all conflicts. Whether it can be settled by negotiation depends in large degree on the United Nations.

And what of our peace organization? Its fate ties into the general picture of this decisive year. The view of many close observers is that the U. N. will have to be remodeled to enable it to function. Then the nations of goodwill — which comprise a big majority of the globe's countries — would have a chance to do constructive work.

Yes, it could be that this year would determine the world's future.

Comdr. Arnold urged all members to attend in order to participate in officer nominations and also to render a decision on the purchase of the television set.

SEA SCOUTS TO GO ON CRUISE ON DESTROYER

Sea Scouts of Ontario ship, Copper Fin, will go on a two-day cruise Saturday and Sunday on a naval destroyer which will be operated by a naval crew. Fifteen boys from the Pomona ship will accompany the 12 from Ontario.

In charge of the Sea Scouts on their cruise will be Skipper Roy Case who will be assisted by Second Mate William Sumter and Tom Brady, all three of them ex-navy chiefs. This will be the first cruise for the Sea Scouts aboard a destroyer.

Where the cruise will take the young seamen still remains a mystery since the ship's captain has sealed orders and can not open them until he puts out to sea. But Catilina or other nearby point is expected to be the destination.

Last night the Ontario Kiwanis club played host to boys from the Copper Fin, taking them to the Kiwanis national convention at the Los Angeles coliseum. Nine Sea Scouts made the trip under the guidance of Skipper Case and Second Mate Sumter. Other Kiwanians making the trip included Glen Finley, Cal Shors, Harold Mackey and Robert Walker.

The boys reported enjoying the acts, particularly the animals and fireworks.

THIS BUSINESS DIDN'T PAY

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — You couldn't blame Steve Sanfelippo for closing his gasoline station early. He was losing money.

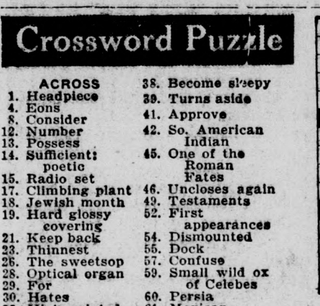

Two men drove up last night. While one talked, the other tapped Sanfelippo's till for $85, he told police.

An hour later, another man came in and helped himself to $25 from the cash register while Sanfelippo was working on the greaserack.

WATER SPORT — Three girls reach for the ball during an exciting water game at London's Hyde Park.

MYSTERY OF WHO MOVED BALL SOLVED

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It took 17 years for the truth to come to light, but Charley Lacey, former crack professional golfer, knew the answer today.

Lacey, once prominent among the touring pros and one-time runnerup for the British Open championship in his native country, was watching play in the United States Open when a younger golfer approached him.

The guy said: "Mr. Lacey, you don't remember me, I know, but I can tell you a funny story."

"It seems that in 1931 Lacey was playing in the Middle Atlantic tournament at Washington and was in the running for victory with Gene Sarazen and another top pro or two.

He hit a long ball off the tee of the 16th hole, a dogleg, five par creation. It fell short and buried—but deep. The fore caddy scurried ahead to place the flag at the ball.

"My friend went on," continued Lacey. "He told me: 'That ball was buried too deep for any man to hit out. I'd heard you were a nice guy, so I just gave it a good kick out of the rough. When you came up you asked where your ball was. I pointed to it, and you said you sure must have a friend around the place. That friend, Mr. Lacey, was me'."

Charley sighed. "You know, I'd often wondered about that ball. And do you know who this kid was? He was Lew Worsham."

Worsham, you know, outgrew his caddy days—and his ball dislodging days, too—and is today the defending champion in the United States Open.

Miller Tosses 1-Hitter; Dukes Routs Optimists

Tut Miller, Cycle and Sport (Police) pitcher came within one batsman of a perfect game last night, as his mates bunched six runs in the seventh frame to triumph, 7-1, over Etiwanda at a city league game at Memorial park.

Trujillo, first man up in the seventh for Etiwanda singled to second and then came all the way home when Kenny Smith threw wildly in an attempt to cut him down at second on a steal.

Miller himself scored the first Cycle run, loping home on Forsen's double after he had walked.

The winners iced their victory in the seventh when four hits and a walk produced six runs. Forsen homered in that frame. Michaelis and Ken Smith had triples and Wessley a double.

In the opener, Dukes Men's shop checked the Jr. Optimists in a wild contest, 18-6.

Homer Jinx Beats Stars

(By The Associated Press)

The Los Angeles Angels are building up a ninth inning home run jinx on the Hollywood Stars.

For the fourth time this season, the Angels last night beat the Stars with a last-inning over-the-fencer.

It was Billy Schuster's solid sock over the centerfield fence—his seventh of the year—which gave Los Angeles the 6-5 decision.

Hollywood's second straight loss to the Angels stirred further talk that Manager Jimmy Dykes' job was getting shaky, but this was denied vigorously by business manager Oscar Reichow.

Meanwhile, first place San Francisco nosed out last place Portland 8 to 7 in the tenth inning, largely by some fancy use of relief hurlers in the overtime period, and a home run.

Rookie Beats Blackwell

(By The Associated Press)

Apparently all that was troubling young Curt Simmons was a case of big league jitters.

Off to a poor start, the 10-year-old southpaw who received a record bonus of $60,000 from the Philadelphia Phillies last summer, is beginning to pay dividends.

He gave the most impressive performance of his brief career last night when he outpitched the great Ewell Blackwell as the Phillies defeated the Reds 3-2 in Cincinnati.

Simmons was tagged for nine hits, but in only two innings did he allow more than one. He struck out nine.

The victory advanced the fifth place Phils to only two and a half games behind the first place New York Giants in one of the closest races in National league history. It was Simmons' third in succession. He now has a record of four victories and four defeats.

Dick Sisler, hard hitting first baseman, accounted for all Philadelphia's runs with his ninth home run.

The St. Louis Cardinals missed an opportunity to take over first place whehn they suffered an 11-5 setback by the Boston Braves in St. Louis. A victory would have put the Cards half a game on top.

The Giants split a double header with the Cubs in Chicago. After presenting the Cubs with five unearned runs to drop an 8-7 decision in the opener, the Giants came back to win the nightcap, 5-1.

Ralph Kiner's three-run homer highlighted a five-run first inning and gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

UPLAND MERCHANTS HAMMER 18-2 WIN OVER POMONA; LEGION NINE VICTIM OF NO-HITTER

A five-inning no-hit pitching performance by McIntyre, LaVerne ace, highlighted last night's National Junior league double bill at Galvin park.

The right-hander's performance was at the expense of the Upland Legion nine by a 15-1 score, their second loss in two tries.

In the second contest, the Upland Merchants clubbed out an 18-2 victory over the highly-touted Pomona nine. The locals combined seven hits with 11 walks and enemy errors for the victory.

Harold O'Neal lead the local bat parade, smacking four for four. Bill Wolfe, on the other hand, wasn't charged with an at-bat. He walked four times in succession.

In the opener, the Upland Legionnaires were helpless before the slants of McIntyre. Their only run came in the fourth when McDonough, Hilke and Guertin walked. The LaVerne chucker struck out three in the course of the contest.

Scores:

LaVerne	15	7
Upland Legion	1	0

McIntyre and Soto; Roper and Keolepp.

Merchants	18	7
Pomona	2	6

Schrop and P. Smith; Becker, Hayes, Coulter and Sambrano.

Expect Fireworks At PCC Meeting

MISSOULA, MONT. (AP) —Today's the day for the fireworks.... if there are any....at the Pacific Coast conference meeting.

The matter of compliance....or fines for non-compliance....with the conference code comes up before the faculty representatives.

Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt makes his report on the code.

There were reports that some favored announcing only the total fines levied against code violators. They didn't want the total broken down to show the individual violators.

Fine Field Starts Open

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Favorite Ben Hogan and about as fine a competitive field as the country has to offer teed off today in the 48th U. S. Open golf championship.

The pint-sized star with the long, straight shots was the logical choice to lead the pack when the famed trophy is awarded at the 72-hole conclusion Saturday.

Hogan has played some of his hottest golf on the 7,020 yard Riviera course. He won the Los Angeles Open there last January with a 275, nine under par and a new course record. The year before he pocketed first money in the same tourney with a 280. Par is 35-36—71.

Experts predicted even par of 284 would be sufficient to win the title.

Byron Nelson, former champion, once the greatest of them all, said 287 might take it. He'll be just a spectator here.

Hogan, new PGA champion, unwillingly on the spot as the man to beat, tackled the job with the prediction "282 will win it".

The links derby will decide whether Lew Worsham will retain the laurels he reaped a year ago at St. Louis.

Bobby Locke of South Africa, a consistent money winner in American tournaments, was a strong choice of many.

Worsham, incidentally, was not conceded much of a chance.

Expected to tread on Hogan's heels were the casual Locke and Samuel Jackson Snead, one of the leading gallery favorites. Snead lost the title to Worsham in the playoff last year. He won the Los Angeles Open on this course in 1945.

Behind Hogan, Locke and Snead were 25 or more who could fill the specifications of a champion.

They included smiling Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif.; Slim Lloyd Mangrum, the 1946 U. S. Open boss; Chick Harbert, Clayton Heafner, Herman Barron and Claude Harmon.

The American Niagara Falls are about 10 feet higher than the Canadian Falls.

RUTTMAN WINS 40-LAP EVENT

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Taking the lead in the second lap and holding it throughout, Troy Ruttman of Ontario raced to victory in the 40-lap (10 miles) main event midget auto race before 14,000 fans last night. His winning time was 12:58.30. Bill Brereton of San Diego was second and Bill Cantrell of Los Angeles was third.

WHEN YOU HAVE AN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT, THE STATE WILL SAY:

"Put up $11,000 in cash or an automobile liability policy to show proof of your ability to pay for the damages or we will take away your driver's license."

Thirty-eight states, and the District of Columbia, have Financial Responsibility Laws which upon occasion require you to prove you can pay for accidents you do with your car, causing death, or injuries, or damage to property within certain limits.

All states with Financial Responsibility Laws will accept a FARMERS Automobile Liability policy as proof of your ability to pay. It's the easiest, most practical and economical way to comply with these laws.

AGENCIES WORK OVERTIME ON U. S. DIVORCE PROBLEM

JAMES MARLOW

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeature Writer

New York — Saving marriages is today the number one concern of home town social agencies which a few years back were battling poverty as the major community problem.

It's not that there are no more poor, but it is that America's rapidly spiraling divorce rate has reached proportions of a public problem. The rate was one divorce for every three marriages in 1945 and this year it is expected to hit two for every five.

Frank J. Hertel, general director of the Family Service Association of America, spearheads 234 coast-to-coast member agencies which are trying to do something constructive about America's troubled family life, mirrored in increased juvenile delinquency and in the day-to-day job efficiency of thousands of unhappy men and women.

"Preparation for a successful marriage starts with the mothers and fathers of every couple," Hertel said. "An agency really comes into the picture too late when it tries to do a repair job. Our aim of course is to patch up a marriage, but we also are trying to teach mothers and fathers to bring up their children so that ultimately they will have happy marriages."

Pre-marriage courses have been set up in many communities similar to one in progress for students at Pennsylvania State College, Miami, Fla., is a model where happy families work with social workers treating day-by-day problems of family living and child care. New Orleans and other cities are holding a series of courses—institutes—on all phases of married life and care of children.

And throughout the country marriage counselors are working with individuals and groups, ironing out minor problems or adjusting major ones which can threaten the lives of two people bound, it appears, for worse instead of better. Hertel estimated these cases today constitute about 80 percent of a family agency's work.

In New York, the Community Service Society, one of the member agencies of the F. S. A. is working with individuals — men and women who either appeal voluntarily for help or are sent by a friend, a doctor, a lawyer or (this is increasing) an employer.

One key to happy marriage is the quality of understanding what the concerned individual wants from it.

"And another, equally or more important," said a counselor, "is the realization that almost always both spouses are to blame for difficulties. Almost all the people who come to us try to blame all their trouble on their mate.

"It is trite but it is true that marriage is and must be a two-person relationship and there is rarely incompatibility on the part of one. Usually it is two people who lack understanding and have failed to adjust to each other."

Generally speaking, half a marriage repair job has been accomplished when people appeal for help, the marriage counselor said, for the mere fact of the appeal indicates their eagerness to make a go of it. The other important hurdles include the will to make necessary adjustments and adaptations.

"And it is true that a happy marriage can be made of temperamental opposites," she added, "because one individual should supplement the other, not tear each other down through misunderstanding."

Hertel said that although a great percentage of current divorce was caused by a backlog which had been postponed because of the war, another important factor was the huge number of hasty wartime marriages, based on short acquaintance and the urgency of the times. Marriage counselors are trying to keep thousands of these off the shoals.

"We must take the long view and the short view of the situation," he said. "First, assist our families in making their adjustments. And second, reach their children through them, because today's children must be the happily married adults of tomorrow."

STATE WILL TAKE REFUGEES

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Governor Warren offered California today as a sanctuary for some of Europe's displaced persons.

"To the extent that conditions in California permit," he said, "we shall be happy to take part in a program offering sanctuary for the homeless and the oppressed. This is the true American tradition. Our country was founded by people in search of liberty and opportunity on these shores. It has gained its vigor and strength and risen to greatness because of the patriotism and industry of just such people."

The Governor's remarks were made in a press statement....telephoned from the east....in which he called for passage of legislation in Congress to permit the admission of some of those persons left homeless by war.

Tidelands Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary committee tentatively approved a bill to give coastal states ownership of oil-rich tidelands.

The final decision was left open temporarily to permit the recording of the votes of two absent senators.

Senator Moore (R-Okla) told a reporter the vote was 6 to 5, with Senators Kilgore (D-WVA) and Magnuson (D-Wash) not voting. Magnuson is out of the city.

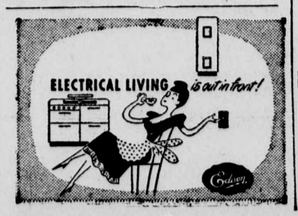

The Bill, similar to one passed by the House, is on the Republican policy committee's list of "desirable" measures. No specific time has been set for its consideration in the senate.

Toastmasters Hear Variety of Subjects

A wide range of subjects featured last night's talks at the meeting of the Ontario Toastmaster club in Hotel Orange.

Kelly Wilson spoke on "Water Pollution;" John Buckwalter on "Wake Up and Live," in which he urged the importance of enjoying vacations and family gatherings; Bruce Claflin on "Why People Act That Way," describing a recent trip down into the dephs of a coal mine, and Woodrow Smith on "Let the Teachers Beware."

Howard Kilmurray, vice president, was in charge of the meeting and Ernest Payne served as toastmaster. Reynold McDonald conducted an interesting table topic on "Business Conditions." Dave Wiel was program chairman.

New State Auto Accident Financial Responsibility Starts Next Month

SACRAMENTO (Æ) — Beginning next month, California's new auto arcident financial responsibility law will go into effect.

Under this law passed by the 1947 state legislature, any driver involved in a car accident, in which any person is killed or injured or damage is over $100, is required to report the accident and post a sum with the department of motor vehicles to cover damages unless such driver is covered by insurance or bond.

The accident must be reported by either the driver or owner of the car within 10 days and the security must be posted within 60 days after filing the report.

Failure to do these things will result in the department suspending the driver's license. In the case of an out-of-stater, California driving privileges will be denied.

The amount of security to be posted will be determined by evaluation of the accident reports, A. H. Henderson, director of motor vehicles, says.

Driving with a suspended license carries a maximum penalty of a year's imprisonment or $1,000 fine or both.

Henderson said motorists can familiarize themselves with the law through a folder now available at most service stations, police departments, branches of the department of motor vehicles, offices of the highway patrol and insurance agents.

The law does not require anyone to carry insurance nor does it force insurance companies to issue policies to everyone who applies.

No field force will be maintained by the department to evaluate accidents on the scene. Evaluation will be based on the accident reports.

Vehicles must not be brought to department of motor vehicle offices for determination of damages.

Operators and drivers of vehicles subject to interstate commerce commission or state public utilities commission or those owned by the federal, state or local governments are exempt from the law.

Licenses will remain suspended until:

1. The required deposit is made.
2. A year elapses from the date of the accident without a damage suit being filed.
3. Release from liability has been established.
4. Final adjudication of nonliability has been made.
5. Confession of judgment or a duly acknowledged written agreement providing for payment of all claims in installments has been obtained.

Cal Graduates To Be Record

BERKELEY, CALIF. (Æ) — The largest commencement class in the 80-year history of University of California will receive degrees here Saturday.

About 3,500 new graduates will be in Memorial Stadium to receive scrolls from Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, university president.

President Truman will be the commencement speaker, and university authorities said they expected 70,000 persons in the stadium, the largest crowd ever on hand for a commencement.

President Truman will confer army and navy commissions to graduates of the departments of military and naval science and tactics.

Only once before has a President of the United States addressed a California commencement assembly. President Theodore Roosevelt was the speaker in 1903.

Canvassing of Votes Underway

County Clerk, Harry L. Allison, announced that an official canvass of the June 1, San Bernardino county biennial primary election is now under way.

A count of the 789 absentee ballots cast in the primary are also being counted by the canvassing boards, under the direction of election department chief, Walter V. Combs. This count will be completed the first part of next week.

No species of birds or fowls now existing have teeth.

Note Upturn in May Business

SAN FRANCISCO (Æ) — The California state chamber of commerce reported a marked upturn in business in California in May after a mild letdown in April.

Retail trade increased in May, the chamber reported, bank loans expanded and there was revived interest in new factory location projects.

"In earlier months of the year," said James E. Shelton, first vice-president of the chamber, "deflationary forces seemed predominant, with money rates growing firmer, commodity prices and trade volume declining in many lines.

"Passage of the European recovery program, prospect of increased armament spending and income tax reduction restored, or perhaps more than restored, balance between inflationary and deflationary forces."

Report 4,015 Rail Accidents in '47

SAN FRANCISCO (Æ) — The safety section of the association of American railroads received a report that there were 4,015 grade crossing accidents in 1947 involving 1,790 deaths and 4,251 injuries.

The report was made to the annual section meeting by its committee on prevention of highway crossing accidents.

U.S. Needs Best Diplomatic Corps, Farley Declares

PASADENA (Æ) — A well-trained diplomatic service is the United States' best answer to communism, James A. Farley contends.

The former postmaster general told a banquet audience last night that the time is past "when we can look upon the diplomatic corps as a minor part of the government". He said: "We should encourage young people to enter this service, offering them intensive university training, if we are to maintain the mantle of leadership that has fallen on us."

"America must realize," said Farley, "that it is the one force in the world today that can stop communism. And I believe the best way to do this is through our diplomatic service. American handling of the Italian crisis — the appeal for the return of Trieste to Italy — was a well-timed master stroke that demonstrated our understanding of the Italian heart and pride."

SOME SHORTAGE

Have Jobs for Those Who Want To Work, Farm Labor Official Says

SACRAMENTO (Æ) — "There are jobs available for those who want to work," Elwood F. Hayes, chief of the state farm labor placement service, said today, commenting on the farm labor situation.

In contrast with the conditions of a few months ago when the migrant farm laborer was suffering from the effects of odd winter weather that threw the crop picking schedule out of gear, jobs are available for all.

From the farmer's point of view there is some shortage of labor in Southern California's citrus area, but there appears to be an ample supply of labor for other crops. Exact figures are not available.

About 24,000 Mexicans have been brought into the state to augment farm labor and more are expected to be brought in later.

It is roughly estimated that there are 100,000 migratory laborers working in California during the peak in September. Of these about 20,000 are from other states who come in for the season and return to their homes after the hiring hump has been passed.

The exact number of persons in the California farm labor army is hard to determine. They have a saying on the farms that for every farm laborer working, there are two on the road—one coming and one going.

Rattlesnakes are dangerous from the moment of birth.

Heart Disease Biggest Cause of Death in State

SACRAMENTO (Æ) — Circulatory diseases, especially those of the heart, kill more adult Californians than any other of the grim reapers.

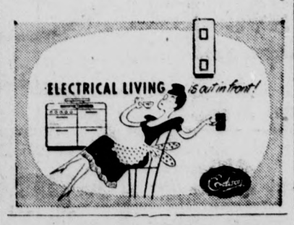

Cancer and tumors follow in second spot and accidents rank third.

That news came from statistics released by the state department of public health in a report covering causes of death.

EXONERATED IN FATAL SHOOTING

Eleven-year-old Bradley Mallder, left, hears words of encouragement from his mother, Mrs. Antoinette Mallder, shortly before a Chicago coroner's jury exonerated him in the fatal shooting of his policeman father, Albert Mallder, during a family quarrel. BIRTHDAY MAY BE HIS LAST

Lamar Clark (right), 12, suffering from a cancer, poses happily with his sister, Judy, 2, and one of his prize birthday presents —a blond Pekingese pup—at his home in Atlanta, Ga. Because his mother, Mrs. L. L. Clark, says the boy's death is "just a matter of time", more than 1,000 guests helped Lamar observe what may be his last birthday. He received what he wanted most, a pony.—(AP Wirephoto)
